

PSC 305: The American Presidency

Monday and Wednesday, 11:30a – 12:45p in WRI C301 (3 credits).

Jonathan D. (Doc) Bradley, MA, Doctoral Candidate

jonathan.bradley@unlv.edu

Office BEH 216

Office Hours: M & W 1pm-2pm or by appointment.

Course Statement:

This course is a study of the American presidency from 1787 to the present. The primary focus will be an analysis of the powers of the President and the relationship of the office to the American political system. This class will discuss the presidents individually, as well as the Executive Branch and the bureaucracy.

This class strongly supports the University Undergraduate Learning Outcomes (UULOs) *****

This course supports the following UULOs:

- 1) Intellectual Breadth and Lifelong Learning - Integrate basic principles of the social sciences and develop skills and a desire for lifelong learning.
- 2) Inquiry and Critical Thinking - Be able to identify problems, articulate questions, and use various forms of research and reasoning to guide the collection, analysis, and use of information related to those problems
- 3) Communication - Communicate effectively in written and verbal modes
Citizenship and Ethics - Participate knowledgeably and actively in the public life of our communities and make informed, responsible, and ethical decisions in one's personal and professional lives.
- 4) Multicultural Knowledge and Awareness – Develop knowledge of multicultural societies and an awareness of one's place in and effect on them
- 5) Citizenship and Ethics - Participate knowledgeably and actively in the public life of our communities and make informed, responsible, and ethical decisions in one's personal and professional lives.

*** assume that each lesson meets every one of these goals and outcomes listed above***

***Additional readings will be posted to CANVAS and emailed out throughout the semester***

Requirements:

A. Tardiness: I loathe tardiness. Constant tardiness will not be tolerated. It is disrespectful to your fellow students, and much more importantly, it is disrespectful to me. Continued tardiness will result in a lowering of your grade. I reserve the right to restrict access to the class if tardiness by any student(s) becomes an issue. If you have extenuating circumstances that will cause you to be consistently tardy, please contact me at the beginning of the semester about the situation. I am willing to make allowances for valid reasons.

B. Examinations: There will be two examinations this semester. Two class exams, a midterm and final, covering the information between each testing period. The test will not be comprehensive. Each exam will be worth 20% of your final grade for a total of 40% for both tests. A class period will be devoted to the midterm test. On the day of the test there will be no meeting for class. If you choose you may use that period to complete your exam, but you can take the test at any time in multiday window. The final will be open all week during finals week.

C. Class Presentations: Each student will deliver one (1) presentations during the semester. Each student will present on one president or one government agency. The presentation will be approximately 20 minutes in length, will be worth 30% of your final grade. See supplement on CANVAS and via email at the start of the semester for additional information and guidelines.

D. Homeworks: There will be 2 homework assignments this semester. These homeworks will deal with a current issue and you will be required to apply what you have learned so far in the class to the current issue. Each homework will be worth 10% of your final grade each, for a total of 20%

E. Reading Pop Quizzes: There will be 8 reading pop quizzes throughout the semester to measure your understanding and comprehension of the reading material. I will only count 5 of the quizzes for grades and will drop the lowest 3 scores. The reading pop quizzes will be worth 10% of your final grade with each quiz being worth 2% of your final grade. They will be 4 questions a piece. Two of the questions will be basic knowledge, 1 questions will be based on a detailed reading of the text, and 1 question will require analytical reasoning (putting 2 and 2 together to come up with 4, even though 4 is not clearly written in the text).

F. Communications: Email communications must be via RebelMail and CANVAS. Do not send an email via Google, Yahoo, or other commercial providers. For all communications send me an email via RebelMail or CANVAS, or come see me directly. I will not answer emails sent in any medium other than RebelMail. I have no dedicated phone line so use email for all communication. Please avail yourself of my office hours. I am here to help you and teach you. I am thrilled by visits from students (honestly) who are seeking to learn and understand. My email address is jonathan.bradley@unlv.edu

G. Grading:

30 points possible for presentation

20 points possible for midterm

20 points possible for final

10 points possible for 1st homework

10 points possible for 2nd homework

10 points possible for reading quizzes.

100% - 93% = A, 92.9%-90% = A-, 89.9%-87% = B+, 86.9%-83%= B, 82.9%-80%=B-, 79.9%-77% = C+, 76.9%-72% = C, 71.9% -70% = C-, 69% - 60% = D below 60% = F

H. Check your Grades: Your grades will be posted on the class CANVAS site after each exam and homework. If you have a question about your exam, or if the grade is entered incorrectly in CANVAS, you must contact me within 72 hours after the posting of the grade to rectify the issue. You must check your grades at the very least once a week. For the final exam, this time period is 48 hours. After these 48 hours, your final grade as shown in CANVAS will be submitted formally to the university's grading system. Final grades will not be curved. Final grades will be figured by hand because CANVAS' mathematic calculations have proven to be less than reliable.

For the weekend following finals a final letter grade will be posted for you to review. You will have that weekend to review and contest your grade. Contesting does not mean begging for a better grade. If you want a better grade work harder throughout the semester. If there is a mistake in the calculation, or there was a grading error, then you need to contact me before the grade is made official the following Monday at 5pm.

I. Classroom Behavior: Every student is entitled to a distraction-free classroom. Students may not behave in any manner that interferes with the learning of another student or my teaching. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1) You must arrive and be prepared to begin class on time. I loathe tardiness. Let me say that again "I loathe tardiness." If late arrivals become a problem, the doors will be locked once class has started. If you have a valid reason to be tardy please inform me at the beginning of the semester. Don't be continually tardy and then try to explain to me at the end of the semester about the reasons. I am willing to be lenient on limited tardiness if there are extenuating circumstances and I am made aware of them before they happen.

2) Cell phones must be turned off and stored out of sight. Texting, accessing the internet, or reading email during class is absolutely prohibited and will result in your being asked to leave the classroom. Continual cell phone use during the class will result in a lowering of your class participation grade. I have no tolerance for cell phones in class. We have survived in various forms of society for 8,000 years without cell phones. You can survive for a few hours without yours. I don't even want to see them out. If they are out I will assume you are using it and I will ask you to put it away. Unless you are a brain surgeon on call or in possession of the nuclear launch codes there is absolutely no reason you need to be talking or texting on your cell phone in our class.

3) Lap tops and tablets are allowed in class ONLY to take notes. You are not to access the internet (unless I request you to do so), check email or perform any other function on your computer that is not class related. I reserve the right to discontinue the use of all or individual electronic devices in class if they disrupt the learning environment.

4) No "side-bar" conversations or passing notes. Ignoring this rule will result in your being asked to leave the classroom. I do not tolerate students who are disruptive or inconsiderate of other students.

5) Do not do another class' homework in this class. I can't believe I have to say this, but I had a student who didn't understand why and was upset when I told the student to stop. Because I say so that's why.

6) Recording devices are allowed in class to record the lecture, but each recording must be converted into an mp3 or some easily playable file and emailed to me before the next class.

7) No food or beverages (except water in a sealable container) are allowed in the classroom.

8) Classroom behavior should always be courteous, respectful of others, and consistent with the expectations set forth by the university.

Minutia:

Academic Misconduct—Academic integrity is a legitimate concern for every member of the campus community; all share in upholding the fundamental values of honesty, trust, respect, fairness, responsibility and professionalism. By choosing to join the UNLV community, students accept the expectations of the Student Academic Misconduct Policy and are encouraged when faced with choices to always take the ethical path. Students enrolling in UNLV assume the obligation to conduct themselves in a manner compatible with UNLV’s function as an educational institution.

An example of academic misconduct is plagiarism. Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of another, from the Internet or any source, without proper citation of the sources. See the Student Academic Misconduct Policy (approved December 9, 2005) located at: <https://www.unlv.edu/studentconduct/student-conduct>.

Copyright—The University requires all members of the University Community to familiarize themselves with and to follow copyright and fair use requirements. You are individually and solely responsible for violations of copyright and fair use laws. The university will neither protect nor defend you nor assume any responsibility for employee or student violations of fair use laws. Violations of copyright laws could subject you to federal and state civil penalties and criminal liability, as well as disciplinary action under University policies. Additional information can be found at: <http://www.unlv.edu/provost/copyright>.

Disability Resource Center (DRC)—The UNLV Disability Resource Center (SSC-A 143, <http://drc.unlv.edu/>, 702-895-0866) provides resources for students with disabilities. If you feel that you have a disability, please make an appointment with a Disabilities Specialist at the DRC to discuss what options may be available to you. If you are registered with the UNLV Disability Resource Center, bring your Academic Accommodation Plan from the DRC to the instructor during office hours so that you may work together to develop strategies for implementing the accommodations to meet both your needs and the requirements of the course. Any information you provide is private and will be treated as such. To maintain the confidentiality of your request, please do not approach the instructor in front of others to discuss your accommodation needs.

Religious Holidays Policy—Any student missing class quizzes, examinations, or any other class or lab work because of observance of religious holidays shall be given an opportunity during that semester to make up missed work. The make-up will apply to the religious holiday absence only. It shall be the responsibility of the student to notify the instructor within the first 14 calendar days of the course for fall and spring courses (excepting modular courses), or within the first 7 calendar days of the course for summer and modular courses, of his or her intention to participate in religious holidays which do not fall on state holidays or periods of class recess. For additional information, please visit: <http://catalog.unlv.edu/content.php?catoid=6&navoid=531>.

Transparency in Learning and Teaching—The University encourages application of the transparency method of constructing assignments for student success. Please see these two links for further information:

<https://www.unlv.edu/provost/teachingandlearning>

<https://www.unlv.edu/provost/transparency>

Incomplete Grades—The grade of I—Incomplete—can be granted when a student has satisfactorily completed three-fourths of course work for that semester/session but for reason(s) beyond the student's control, and acceptable to the instructor, cannot complete the last part of the course, and the instructor believes that the student can finish the course without repeating it. The incomplete work must be made up before the end of the following regular semester for undergraduate courses. Graduate students receiving "I" grades in 500-, 600-, or 700-level courses have up to one calendar year to complete the work, at the discretion of the instructor. If course requirements are not completed within the time indicated, a grade of F will be recorded and the GPA will be adjusted accordingly. Students who are fulfilling an Incomplete do not register for the course but make individual arrangements with the instructor who assigned the I grade.

Library Resources

Students may consult with a librarian on research needs. For this class, the subject librarian is https://www.library.unlv.edu/contact/librarians\_by\_subject. UNLV Libraries provides resources to support students' access to information. Discovery, access, and use of information are vital skills for academic work and for successful post-college life. Access library resources and ask questions at <https://www.library.unlv.edu/>.

Tutoring and Coaching—The Academic Success Center (ASC) provides tutoring, academic success coaching and other academic assistance for all UNLV undergraduate students. For information regarding tutoring subjects, tutoring times, and other ASC programs and services, visit <http://www.unlv.edu/asc> or call 702-895-3177. The ASC building is located across from the Student Services Complex (SSC). Academic success coaching is located on the second floor of the SSC (ASC Coaching Spot). Drop-in tutoring is located on the second floor of the Lied Library and College of Engineering TEB second floor.

UNLV Writing Center—One-on-one or small group assistance with writing is available free of charge to UNLV students at the Writing Center, located in CDC-3-301. Although walk-in consultations are sometimes available, students with appointments will receive priority assistance. Appointments may be made in person or by calling 702-895-3908. The student's Rebel ID Card, a copy of the assignment (if possible), and two copies of any writing to be reviewed are requested for the consultation. More information can be found at: <http://writingcenter.unlv.edu/>.

Rebelmail—By policy, faculty and staff should e-mail students' Rebelmail accounts only. Rebelmail is UNLV's official e-mail system for students. It is one of the primary ways students receive official university communication such as information about deadlines, major campus events, and announcements. All UNLV students receive a Rebelmail account after they have been admitted to the university. Students' e-mail prefixes are listed on class rosters. The suffix is always @unlv.nevada.edu. Emailing within CANVAS is acceptable.

Final Examinations—The University requires that final exams given at the end of a course occur at the time and on the day specified in the final exam schedule. See the schedule at: <http://www.unlv.edu/registrar/calendars>.

Any other class specific information—(e.g., absences, make-up exams, status reporting, extra credit policies, plagiarism/cheating consequences, policy on electronic devices, specialized department or college tutoring programs, bringing children to class, policy on recording classroom lectures, etc.)
